IXMO fittings made by KEUCO

Fittings for all areas in the bathroom

The IXMO fittings series offers products for all areas of the bathroom. From the washbasin, the heart of every bathroom, to the shower and bath tub, through to the bidet. Different finishes and matching fittings and shower accessories harmoniously round-off the concept.

IXMO for the shower and bath tub: less can do more

The merging of functions creates a completely independent design approach. The designer Dominik Tesseraux created a multi-award-winning design icon in collaboration with KEUCO developers. IXMO integrates functions in such a compressed way that the design in the shower or at the bath could become very minimalistic and enjoys great popularity among design lovers and sanitary professionals. The name says it all. IXMO stands for "x possibilities" and promises: variety in design and planning freedom, aesthetics and easy care, and quick and inexpensive installation.

Individual combination options with up to three different water outlets offer optimal showering and pleasure when it comes to the bath tub. The shower head, hand shower with shower rail or with a wall bracket can be combined - dousing shower and hose in the shower, inlet in the bath. Seven elegant finishes are available for the shower or bath tub solution: chrome-plated, matt black, stainless steel finish, aluminium finish, brushed bronze, brushed nickel and brushed black chrome. The IXMO online planner at www.ixmo.de will guide you to your personal solution in only a few steps.

The IXMO family: more freedom

In addition to the recessed solutions for the shower and bath tub, the product family has been consistently supplemented with fittings for the washbasin and bidet. Together with the extensive range of shower accessories, the result is a consequent minimalist design in the complete bathroom which offers a maximum of design freedom.

IXMO washbasin fittings: Always the right design

IXMO basin fittings are available as a classic single-lever mixer or as a modern wall-mounted fitting. The IXMO PURE, IXMO SOFT and IXMO FLAT designs offer the possibility of a finely coordinated bathroom design with the differently nuanced design language of the spouts and handles.

- IXMO PURE focuses on classic beauty of form with a round, straight spout and rectangular handle.
- IXMO SOFT, with its rounded spout and rounded handle, is aimed at lovers of softer shapes.
- And IXMO FLAT combines round and angular shapes in sensual harmony.

The cover plate can be combined in round or square for all three designs, matching the IXMO mixers in the shower and on the bath tub.

Hygienic and convenient: the range of fittings has been further extended by IXMO sensor fittings for the washbasin - as free-standing and wall-mounted models.

In addition to classic chrome, the washbasin fittings in a black matt finish set powerful accents and take on a strong role where the bathroom design is concerned. For all those who love the colour black in the bathroom and want to add extravagance to the bathroom design with striking accessories, KEUCO BLACK SELECTION offers matching accessories for different furnishing styles.
