Holistic bathroom design begins at the washbasin

IXMO fittings made by KEUCO: minimalistic design and maximum function

The IXMO range of fittings made by KEUCO integrates complex functionalities under the motto "less can do more" and thus creates a reduced, calm room aesthetic. Thanks to the innovative fitting technology, the IXMO shower and bath fittings only require a few elements on the wall, with a minimalistic appearance, thus presenting a homely bathroom ambience.

The popular fitting design in the shower and on the bathtub is consistently reflected through to the washbasin and bidet fittings. This leaves nothing to be desired for where a uniform and consistent bathroom design with IXMO fittings is concerned.

The IXMO washbasin fittings are available as classic single-lever mixers, standing on the rim of the basin. The IXMO Pure, IXMO Soft and IXMO Flat designs offer the possibility of finely coordinated bathroom design with the differently nuanced design language of the spouts and handles. IXMO Pure focuses on classic beauty of form with a round, straight spout and rectangular lever. IXMO Soft, with its rounded spout and rounded-off lever, is aimed at lovers of softer shapes – IXMO Flat combines round and angular shapes in sensual harmony. The rosette can be combined in round or square for all three designs matching the IXMO fittings in the shower and on the bathtub.
