KEUCO shower shelves

For the perfect blend between storage space and design

The days when the whole family used to share the same shampoo are over. Today there is a need for more space for care products – but a tidy shower that is attractive to look at is desirable, too. The new KEUCO shower shelves offer both, and take a refreshing new look at the topic of storage space. They offer a lot of space, but with their popular white or grey-black, powder-coated aluminium finishes, they also add a stylish design to the shower. In addition to two wall-mounted models there is also a shower shelf that can be hung on the glass screen. On top of the standard widths, shower shelves with widths even up to one metre are available. So there is space for absolutely all of the care products.

New at KEUCO: Now it is easy to reliably fasten shower shelves to the wall with a matching two-component adhesive, but with no drilling required. Once the wall brackets are glued or screwed to the wall, the shower shelves are simply mounted, so they can also be easily removed again the same way for cleaning.

The modern, rectilinear design matches virtually any style of furnishings, so KEUCO shower shelves are suitable for universal use. Care products are hidden behind the high front, so the shower always has a clean and tidy appearance.

If more space is required, the wall-mounted shower shelves with an enclosed front are also available in larger sizes. In steps of 10 mm the length can be increased up to one metre to suit your needs.
