Luxurious and exclusive: KEUCO fittings and accessories shine in special metallic colours

Unusual surfaces add a touch of extravagance to the bathroom

The luxury bathroom trend: fittings and accessories in special metallic bronze and nickel colours. But black is 'in', too. For IXMO fittings and EDITION 400 and EDITION 11 series fittings and accessories, KEUCO offers exclusively manufactured, gleaming metallic or black surfaces, each in either a matt or glossy finish. With these, KEUCO once again demonstrates its high standard of innovation in design and technology.

The extravagant metallic surfaces in warm bronze, champagne-coloured nickel and opulent black lend an exclusive touch, whether in upscale hotels or deluxe private bathrooms. Exclusive matt or glossy finishes use colour to add accents.

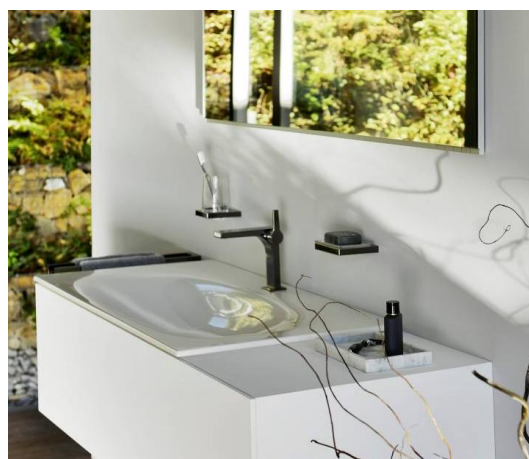

The production process is as unusual as the look itself. KEUCO only produces these exquisite fittings and accessories on a custom-order basis. Technically, the surfaces are something very special: they are not produced by electroplating, but rather by so-called PVD coating (physical vapour deposition). In this vacuum-based process, a thin coating is applied to the metal object, which does not change the surface, but does allow diverse colours. For the fittings and accessories, the production process guarantees extremely durable surfaces with an intense, deep shine and high degree of hardness.
